Jordan combines his accounting background and technology experience to serve the clients of the GYF ERP Solutions Group, with a focus on providing support for technology/software implementations. In this role, his primary responsibilities include working directly with clients to improve business processes, training users on their ERP systems, and helping them to maximize their technology investments.

The ERP Solutions Group is a channel partner for NetSuite, one of the industry's leading ERP cloud-based vendors. Each implementation can be customized to utilize the modules and other features to meet the needs of the individual client. Jordan has experience working within NetSuite in the following areas: reporting/saved searches, custom workflows, fixed assets, procure to pay, order to cash, and revenue recognition.

Jordan began his career with Grossman Yanak & Ford LLP in 2017. Previously, he had experience with NetSuite from a user's perspective, primarily from Controller/Accounting roles. Jordan has worked with light manufacturing, distribution, non-profit, and service-oriented businesses.

Jordan graduated from Geneva College in 2013 with a B.S. in Finance, then later returned to Geneva in 2016 to earn a B.S. in Accounting.

Outside of work, Jordan enjoys playing basketball, working out, hunting, and spending time with his family. He lives in Beaver with his wife, Alexa and children, Isla and Samuel.
