EXPERIENCE

Austin provides audit, accounting, and advisory services to privately held companies and not-for-profit organizations. Known for genuine care for clients and communities, he brings urgency and sincerity to each engagement – from planning and executing efficient audits to partnering with stakeholders on emerging issues and developments. Austin's greatest strength is building trusted relationships. He takes time to understand people, organizations, and operating environments, enabling him to tailor practical solutions and deliver excellent client service while remaining deeply involved in the community.

Austin has significant experience scoping and launching new audit engagements. He stays current on technical developments and assists clients with navigating new accounting standards and optimizing systems and processes. Austin delivers responsive follow-through and proactive communication that keeps internal and external stakeholders aligned on timing, priorities, and next steps. In addition to client service, Austin supports the firm's training and technology initiatives, including leading the evaluation and implementation of Inflo, a digital audit tool that enhanced client experience and audit efficiency by streamlining and strengthening collaboration.
